PASTOR'S CORNER

As Christians we are called to be followers of Christ, to live the way He lived and to endeavour to love others the way He did.

Today's gospel passage is a great reminder that all that we are and all that we have comes from God and ultimately belongs to Him. As good stewards, therefore, we are obliged in conscience to give God what is His without holding back anything. Today in faith we have come to offer ourselves completely to Him as Jesus did on the cross of Calvary. The question I would like us to ask ourselves is: what is it that is holding me back from committing my entire life to God and of recognizing Jesus as the author and finisher of my faith?

Chosen in Christ

"He (God) has chosen you", says St. Paul in today's second reading, to be His witness in a world that is more and more political and less and less religious. We are, therefore, challenged and our faith tested everyday. In such situations all we have to do is to look to Jesus, look to the traditions of the early church, look to the Holy Spirit and say "Yes" as Mary did to God Who has chosen us in Christ.

P.S. Thank you Fr. Joe for making out time to come and celebrate the Holy Eucharist with us and, on behalf of the archbishop, to install me as the 18th pastor of Our Lady of the Miraculous Medal parish.

May God grant success to the work of our hands and may He help us to be good citizens of this world and of the world to come.

Fr. Paul
