Pastor's Corner

We are reminded today and always of the great commandment of love: love of God and love of neighbour.

God is Love

We must love God with our whole heart, all the time, in little things as well as in big. In his encyclical, Deus Caritas Est, Pope Benedict XVI emphasizes the unbreakable bond between love of God and love of neighbour. According to him, "One is closely connected to the other that to say that we love God becomes a lie if we are closed to our neighbour or hate him altogether." Love of neighbour is, therefore, a "path that leads to the encounter with God that closing our eyes to our neighbour also blinds us to God."

Our Mass

In and through the mass we discover our true identity, we realise who we are – community of believers, family of God, united in and through love. In the mass we pray and sing songs, a way of telling God we love him. In Holy Communion we come into intimate contact with our God who is love through the precious body and blood of Christ.

Mission Sunday

Today is mission Sunday, a day set apart for us to think about our fundamental mission as Christians: to preach the gospel of Christ so that all people may hear and believe and be baptized and ultimately come to the Eucharist and be saved. Through baptism we are called to be missionaries and to support the Church's missionary endeavors. As someone rightly said, some give to mission by going while some go to mission by giving. Let us pray today and indeed always that the church's missionary activities may meet with resounding success. May we always be open to doing God's will in our lives.
