PASTOR'S CORNER

As Christians, we are called to make Christ's Kingdom a reality in our world by imitating Him who came not to be served but to serve.

Heirs of the Kingdom

Today, the Solemnity of Christ the King, we acknowledge Christ as our Lord and king. And if Jesus is indeed our king, we have to pay attention to his words and respond to them not just with pious thoughts but with deeds. In other words, Jesus will never be king of our hearts unless we serve our deprived brothers and sisters as he did. The conclusion is obvious: it is not possible to be committed to Christ without being committed to the least of his brothers and sisters. This has to start within our homes and the people we see everyday.

Love and Peace

When Jesus said to Pilate that His kingdom is not of this world, He meant that His Kingdom does not depend on armies and bombs and missiles. His Kingdom is a kingdom of Justice, Truth, Love and Peace. This is the type of kingdom any well meaning person would like to belong; to be under the Lordship of Jesus and to know His Peace for "as long as individuals and the state refuse to submit to the rule of our savior", writes Pope Pius XI, "there would be no really hopeful prospect of lasting peace among nations." We must look for the peace of Christ in the kingdom of Christ.

A Question

The danger facing our world today is that majority of men and women had, in the words of Pope Pius XI, thrust Jesus Christ and holy law out of their lives, it would be proper to ask yourself, is Christ in my life? Is there any attachment that I prefer to Christ? Anything I consider more important than Christ?

May the peace of Christ reign in our hearts always!

Fr. Paul

~YEAR OF FAITH~

Introduction to the Nicene Creed - Part Seven. One of the most immediately apparent changes from our previous version of the Creed is the introduction of the unusual sounding phrase to describe Jesus as, "CONSUBSTANTIAL WITH THE FATHER". As we discussed last week, Greek philosophy provided the early Church with conceptual tools to bring further clarity to the Church's faith. Sometimes, though, the highly technical philosophical terms can leave the non-specialists scratching our heads! "CONSUBSTANTIAL" is an attempt to explain that Jesus is not 'less than' the Father in terms of his 'God-ness'. There was an erroneous opinion at the time of the early Church that Jesus was somehow different on a fundamental level than God. This belief conceded that Jesus was special, maybe even like a 'super-angel' or 'semi-divine' but that he was different than God at the most fundamental level of being. The technical term "CONSUBSTANTIAL" is part of our heritage of faith and it makes the best attempt we can at asserting that Jesus is just as much God as the Father is God.
