WELCOME! If you have not yet registered, please complete a registration form found in the foyer or in the office. You may bring the completed form to the office or drop it in the collection basket.

PASTOR'S CORNER

Our faith in God becomes real and active only when it is integrated into our daily lives.

Readiness for the Lord's coming

Today's gospel is quite explicit on the reality of the Lord's second coming. Sometimes we tend to forget, we allow ourselves to be distracted by trivial matters. God created us, each and every one of us, for a purpose. He continues to invite us to life eternal. There is this world and there is a world beyond. This is where the Lord comes to take us to, to be with him forever. To stand ready, therefore, means fidelity to the will of God and obedience to his words.

More to Life

There is certainly more to life than what we see here and now. This is what the rich fool in last Sunday's gospel fail to recognize. And because of that he was caught off-guard. Thus his hard work and labour were all for nothing. What we are called to do is to think of how to avoid such an ignominious end. We challenge ourselves to always pay attention to the spiritual reality that surrounds and envelopes us and to use wisely our gifts and abilities!

NET Missionaries

As some of you already know, two of our youth, Matt Kupferschmidt and Brooke Villeneuve are going off to NET ministries, Canada as missionaries. Matt already left August 8, while Brooke will be leaving August 22. Both of them have been greatly involved in our budding youth ministry. I commend them for their faith and commitment. On their behalf I would like to thank all of you for your prayers and financial support to both of them. And please do keep them in your prayers always as they go out into the mission field to work for God. We wish Matt and Brooke well and God's protection.

Peace to all!

Fr. Paul
